DISTRICT CITY FOR FIRE ALARM PATROL SYSTEM

Fire and Police Chiefs Divide Territory For Installing Boxes.

Home Telephone Company
Engaged on Work.

NETWORK OF WIRES IS USED.

The network of wires for the automatic flashlight fire alarm police call system has almost been completed by the Paducah Home Telephone company, which is installing the system, and as soon as the boxes arrive the system will be ready for operation within a short time afterwards.

Fifty boxes are provided for and Fire Chief James Wood and Chief of Police Henry Singery have mapped out the districts and locations of the boxes. There will be seven districts and the boxes will be so arranged in order that the patrolmen may distinguish the light from the bull's eye many squares distant. The boxes are for fire alarms, and equipped with telephones to be used by the public in emergency cases. Patrolmen report over the system by flashing the light, which is shown on the indicator at police headquarters. The old method of reporting over telephones will be a thing of the past.

Following are the districts and locations for each box as adopted by both the police and fire departments:

District No. 1—First street and Broadway; Fourth street and Broadway; Second and Monroe streets; Second street and Kentucky avenue; Second and Clark streets; Sixth street and Kentucky avenue; Sixth and Jefferson streets; Fifth and Washington streets.

District No. 2—Sixth and Campbell streets; Sixth and Clay streets; Tenth and Trimble streets; Tenth and Burnett streets; Twelfth and Flournoy streets; Twelfth and Harrison streets; and Rowlandtown.

District No. 3—Seventh street and Broadway; Tenth street and Broadway; Ninth and Washington streets; Tenth and Adams streets.

District No. 4—Twelfth and Jackson streets; Tenth and Ohio streets; Thirteenth and Tennessee streets; Twelfth and Jones streets; Eleventh and Caldwell streets; Tenth and Hubbs streets; Ninth and Bachman streets; Seventh and Tennessee streets; Union station.

District No. 5—Thirteenth and Jefferson streets; Sixteenth and Trimble streets; Sixteenth street and Broadway; Seventeenth and Monroe streets; Nineteenth street and Broadway; Twenty-second and Jefferson streets; Seventeenth and Tennessee streets.

District No. 6—Seventh and Adams streets; Third and Jackson streets; Fifth and Jackson streets; Second and Ohio streets; Fourth and Tennessee streets; Fifth and Jones streets; Third and Norton streets; Sixth and Norton streets.

District No. 7—Fourth and Broad streets; Meyers street and Farley place; Bridge and Kincaid streets; Meyers and Mill streets; Mill street and Benton road; Powell and Clements streets; tanyard.

The districts cover every portion of the city, which are in direct communication with police headquarters at all times. The locations were arranged after tedious work and the boxes, it is believed, could not be better situated. The installation of the new system, which is in use in all larger cities, marks a step of progress in Paducah's history. At the end of twelve months' usage the city may purchase the system outright and add more boxes as necessary demands.

SEVEN ARE CREMATED.

Foreigners Lose Lives in New York Tenement Fire.

New York, Aug. 6.—Seven lives were lost in a fire which destroyed a three-story lodging house in the foreign section of Jamaica, L. I. The blaze started in a hallway, the only exit, and spread so rapidly that few of the inmates had an opportunity to escape.

The lodging house was occupied for the most part by poor workmen employed in the neighborhood. The owner, George Dunbeck, occupied apartments with his family on the ground floor. He and his household escaped safely in their night clothes by climbing through the windows to the street.

The dead, five men and two women, were all foreigners. They were asleep at the time and were all suffocated by smoke as they lay in their beds.

Desperate Prisoners, Pursued by Posse With Bloodhounds, Declare They May be Killed; Not Captured

London is Scene of Bold Jail Delivery—Testimony at Coroner's Hearing of Axson
Cooper Inquest.

London, Ky., Aug. 6. (Special.)—A posse with bloodhounds is chasing three prisoners who escaped from jail under fire, and say they won't return alive.

Eddyville, Aug. 6.—Some interesting facts were brought out by the examination of witnesses at the inquest into the death of Axson Cooper at Lamasco. From various witnesses the following story of the murder was gathered:

"Spunk" Creekmore approached Noah Oliver, aged 17, son of Milton Oliver, who turned state's evidence and caused the arrest of Dr. David A. Amos and others, with the remark:

"I understand that you called me a ————." Noah, commonly called Sam, denied this.

At this juncture Axson Cooper came to the lad's rescue and said to Creekmore:

"You are just trying to pick a fight with the kid. You know he didn't say anything."

"Hell, I'll kill you, you ————," was Creekmore's retort.

With these words he pulled his

Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—St. Paul, Minn., has a population of 214,744, according to the enumeration of the thirteenth census figures, which were made public by Census Director Durand. This is an increase of 51,679, or 31.7 per cent over 1900, when the population was 163,065.

Reading, Pa., has a population of 95,071, an increase of 17,110, or 21.7 per cent.

The population of Allentown, Pa., is 51,913, an increase of 16,497, or 46.6 per cent.

POLITICS HOT IN GEORGIA.

Tom Watson and Rep. Hardwick Talks in Same Tone.

Thomson, Ga., Aug. 6.—Following a long drawn newspaper controversy, the bitterness and personal character of which is unique in Georgia political annals, Thomas E. Watson, twice candidate of the Populist party for the presidency, and Congressman Thomas G. Hardwick, candidate for the Democratic renomination from the Tenth district, will at noon Saturday simultaneously address the voters of the district in this, Mr. Watson's home town.

As a precaution against factional outbreaks, the meetings, it is said, will be held in different localities, and everything possible will be done to preserve peace.

Recently Mr. Watson expressed the fear that the controversy might lead to his assassination by friends of Congressman Hardwick, and this expression, together with the extremely personal character of the charge made against Congressman Hardwick by Mr. Watson, and vice versa, is responsible for the fear that the meeting might possibly have a riotous or tragic ending.

SOUTHERN BANKERS HOPEFUL.

Analyze Situation Created By England on Cotton Bills.

New Orleans, Aug. 6.—Southern bankers are taking a hopeful view of the situation created by the action of English bankers in demanding that cotton bills of lading, sent with drafts to foreign ports, should be guaranteed by American banks. The position of many banks in the south is at the same time one of doubtfulness as to guaranteeing bills of lading. Many banking institutions are yet to be convinced that they can make such guarantee without endangering their assets.

It is asserted that national banks under the law cannot guarantee bills of lading, and the state banks will not make such guarantee because they are unwilling to assume the financial responsibility thus entailed. On the other hand, bankers of New Orleans and other southern cities say they would not object to validating certificates, but that this would be as far as they would care to go in insuring buyers of American cotton against loss by possible fraudulent practices.

THE WEATHER

The predictions and temperature for the past twenty-four hours will be found at the top of the seventh column on page 6.

GOLD BUGS.

Silver City, N. M., Aug. 6.—Two masked bandits today held up the Mogmollan stage, shot and killed the driver and fled with gold and silver bullion valued at $18,000. They later threw a number of silver bars into a nearby house and escaped to the mountains with the gold.

HAL W. WALTERS

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN DIES OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Had Been in Critical Condition Several Months—Bookkeeper for Local Concern.

After a several months' illness of Bright's disease Mr. Hal W. Walters died at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Diamond Springs, Ky., where he had been for the past two weeks.

Mr. Walters was 65 years old and a native of Paducah. For years he was bookkeeper for Friedman, Keller & Company but for the past several years he had not been engaged in any active occupation owing to his failing health. He received his education at Bethel College, Russellville, Ky., and after being graduated he went to California where he remained several years with Capt. Robert Owen. They returned here and afterwards Mr. Walters went to Russellville, where he was head bookkeeper at the banking institution of Nimrod Long.

He was employed there at the time the bank was robbed by the James boys. Following the robbery Mr. Walters returned to Paducah and returned to California, where he stayed for a short time. Returning here, he became bookkeeper for Friedman, Keller & company.

Mr. Walters was married to Mrs. Randolph at Charleston, Mo., many years ago. He was the son of James Walters. He was widely known and liked and leaves many friends here. His death was not unexpected owing to his condition. The body will arrive here this evening at 6:10 o'clock and be taken to his residence, 1533 Jefferson street, where the funeral will probably be held Sunday. Arrangements have not been completed.

Besides his wife, who was with him at the time of his death, he leaves a half-sister, Mrs. H. Miller, of St. Louis and three cousins, Mrs. A. O. Woolfolk, and Messrs. Braack and Robert Owen, of this city. No children survive.

Bitten by Snake

As a result of a snake bite on his right hand, Mr. Henry Ruoff, a young farmer of the Mayfield road, has been in a serious condition this week. However, his condition is improved, and it is thought that the danger is over. Mr. Ruoff was working in the garden when a poisonous snake bit him on the hand. His hand became swollen and he was seriously ill for several days.

AL REDMAN CHARGED WITH SHOOTING FROM AMBUSH.

Wife Accused of Maintaining the "Ambush"—A Disorderly House.

Al Redman and his wife, of 1026 Kentucky avenue, are both facing charges in police court. On complaint of Robert Blanks, a machinist of 1006 Jefferson street, Redman was arrested last night on a warrant charging him with malicious shooting without warning. Blanks and Redman are alleged to have had a misunderstanding a few days ago and while Blanks was passing Redman's home last night in company with Will McNally a pistol shot rang out, said Blanks accuses Redman of the act but Redman denies it, saying he was asleep at the time.

Mrs. Redman was arrested on two warrants, one sworn out by Police Sergeant Lige Cross, charging her with maintaining a disorderly house. Both gave bond for their appearance in police court Monday morning.

ICE CREAM CONES ARE BEING INVESTIGATED.

Preliminary analysis of the ice cream cones sold in Paducah does not disclose the use of any preservatives, but it is said such a poor grade of milk is used that the cones are unfit for food. A thorough analysis is being made of the cones by Dr. G. C. McKinney under the direction of the city board of health, and his report will be made next week. It is said that a cheap grade of glucose and cane sugar is used to sweeten the cream, which is made of "near milk" in the ratio of about nine parts of water to one of milk.

CURTIS INFERS THAT GORE LIES ABOUT CHARGES

Kansas Senator Declares He Had No Connection With Land Company

Committee Will Go to McAlester, Okla.

CONFERENCE WITH THE INDIANS.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 6.—When called to the stand to testify before the committee investigating Senator Gore's charges of bribery in connection with the McMurray Indian land contracts, Senator Curtis, of Kansas, declared that, in so far as he is concerned, Gore's statements are without any foundation whatever.

In reference to Hamon's denial, Gore said before the investigation commenced this morning: "It should not surprise us that one who would be willing to debauch, should also be willing to defame."

Curtis testified: "I am not now and never have been interested in the McMurray contracts, or any other Indian contracts. I am a member of the committee on Indian affairs and am acquainted with J. S. McMurray and Senator Gore; but so far as I remember I never met Jacob L. Hamon. In April I was informed that the president wished to see the vice-president and myself. Mr. Sherman and I went to the white house together. The president asked what we knew about the proposed granting of the claims and what we thought about it. I told him I thought it would be a great mistake for him to take a stand upon the question."

When the committee adjourns tonight it will go to McAlester to inquire of the Indians their wishes regarding the sale of the lands. This is an innovation in dealing with Indians, and incidental to the investigation.

A Notoriety Seeker.

Postmaster F. M. Fisher was in Washington immediately after Gore's sensational charges of graft in Indian lands was made, and is acquainted with some of the principals. In speaking about the affair today, he said:

"Judging from what some of his Democratic colleagues said of him at the time, I believe Senator Gore does not stand high at Washington, and except for his blindness would have little notoriety. A prominent Democratic senator, to whom I mentioned the Gore charges, told me there was nothing in them and Gore was simply seeking notoriety."

NO TRACE OF YAMAGUCHI.

Blood-Stained Ax Found in Kendall Residence.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Aug. 6.—What the district attorney believes may be partial substantiation of the story of cruel treatment received by Yamaguchi, the Japanese suspected of the murder of the three members of the Kendall family, near Case de Ora, was discovered today when a blood-stained ax was found buried in the garden. Yamaguchi declared to Mrs. Starbuck, owner of the ranch on which the Kendalls lived, that Mrs. Kendall attacked him with the ax.

No trace of Yamaguchi has been found and there is a belief among officials that he may have made away with himself, as he told the Starbucks he intended to do.

ADJUST COPPER MARKET.

Amalgamated and Guggenheim Interests Reported Allied.

New York, Aug. 6.—The persistent report of the alliance of the Amalgamated and Guggenheim copper interests, designed to bring about an adjustment in the copper market between production and consumption was flatly denied today by John T. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company.

"There is no ground for any such report," said Mr. Ryan, who had just returned from Europe. He spoke of the foreign copper situation, saying that the European stocks of copper were below normal and the consumption of copper increasing at an amazing rate in England, France and Germany.

Washington, Aug. 6.—New Orleans is preparing to boom in a novel way the Crescent City as the "logical point" for holding the exposition to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal in 1915.

This will be by distributing pamphlets printed in Esperanto, the international language, favoring New Orleans as the exposition city, during the meeting here next week of the sixth international congress of Esperanto. Furthermore, the Esperantists will be invited to hold their world convention in 1915 in New Orleans. During the congress a lecture will be given on New Orleans as the "logical point" for the Panama exposition.

According to reports, Shurtleff was named as the man who said it would cost $15,000 to get the bill through. Shurtleff denies the charge.

Wardlaw Trial Postponed.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 6.—The illness of Prosecutor Mott, of Essex county, has necessitated a postponement of the trial of the three Wardlaw sisters, accused of having caused the death of Okey W. M. Sneed, the East Orange bathtub victim, which had been set for August 29. It was announced that September 12 had been set for the beginning of the trial.

Spat in His Left Eye.

Dr. Adair Koyor, whom Muril C. Givens, a collector for Rhodes, Burford & company, regards as his enemy, was fined $10 in police court this morning on a breach of the peace charge preferred against him by Givens. Givens said on the witness stand that while he was riding his bicycle a few days ago Dr. Koyor passed him in his buggy and spat in his left eye. Givens swore it was not an accident but done with intent. Dr. Koyor was not present.

Jail on Charge of Larceny of Brass.

In the meantime the police were notified and Patrolman Mike Dugan was on hand when Cook returned. He was taken in charge to account for his possession of the brass.

BUSINESS GOOD FOR THIS MONTH

AUGUST DULLNESS SOMEWHAT
RELIEVED IN RETAIL CIR-CLES—BANK CLEARINGS.

Clearings this week $576,447.

Retail business has picked up a trifle this week, and considering the fact that it is August, which is accepted in all lines of business as dull, the month has started off well. Passenger traffic on the railroads is heavy. The number of people seeking the springs and summer resorts is greater than any other month of the year.

Building continues lively in Paducah and there is a prospect of several large factories locating in Paducah. This fall is expected to bring Paducah one of the largest tobacco markets in the country. It is expected that several new tobacco houses will be erected, and it will draw more of the weed to Paducah. The tobacco crop is reported in fair shape, and a good yield is promised in the Black Patch.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 6.—Though the parents gave their consent, Prosecuting Attorney Keller today directed that a marriage license should not be issued to Lennie Harding, 20 years old, and Hazel Morris, aged 16, because, as he says, "their marriage would not make for the public good." The Indians pounded Mortenson for eight safe raps well bunched, and won the game by a score of 2 to 0. His teammates fielded behind him in splendid style. It was the first series of the Paducah team with Harrisburg, and a large crowd was present to see the dose of whitewash plastered on.

Lost in Ninth.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 6.—That heavy hitting McLeansboro batted out a victory yesterday afternoon in the ninth inning and won, 13 to 2, after the Hoptown fans were ready to leave the park under the assurance that their boys were victors. The game appeared to be the Allice until Blue was placed behind the bat, and the catcher knocked a three-bagger with enough men on bases to assist in the victory. Kenn cut loose with a home run. Thompson in center field, McCance at second, and Bailey's work in the box were the features for the locals while Jantzen at third base for the Allice put up a star game.

Not a man had reached first base, and on the strength of this fast playing a large crowd is assured for tomorrow. A number of Paducah rooters will accompany the team. The Hooks will line up: Wagner, c; Council, p; Jones, 1b; Harper, 2b; Monroe, 3b; Cox, ss; G. Harper, lf; Williams, cf; and Hennes, rf; and Sheed multitaly.

Baseball Chaff.

It is rumored that Pitcher Guy Woodring is soon to become a benedict. His many friends among the fans wish him luck in the game of life.

Big Zeke Taylor is still in the city and expects to sign up with some of the other teams in the KITT.

Taylor says he was sick Thursday and was in the game after he not-fied the management that he was not able to work.

A hot letter has been written by the Paducah management to President Gosnell about the work of Umpire Lucas in Paducah, demanding that he be released. It is stated plainly to President Gosnell that the fans and management of the Paducah team will not stand for such rank work. The Indians do not want anything given them, but certainly want all that they earn. Hopkinsville is sore on Umpire Lucas for his work in the series that closed the first season. The Hopkinsville

New Era says: "And Lucas got his at Paducah. If his work there was anything like the exhibition he gave here in the last game of the first half of the season he deserves what he got."

Pitcher Pat Runyan left last night for Harrisburg, Ill., where he will join the team. Runyan signed up as a full fledged Indian, and should make good.

The fans are tickled over the result of the first game with Harrisburg yesterday. "Dummy" Payne is one of the neat little pitchers in the league, besides being one of the best fielding third sackers in the business.

Robert Roberts, formerly a member of the Vincennes team, was in Paducah yesterday. He went to Marión today, where he will twirl independent ball.

In defense of himself Pitcher Guy

Woodring says that he was excused from donning a uniform, and that while in citizens clothes he did not desire to ruin his suit. He is one of the most popular twirlers on the Indians' staff, and his many friends

FOUR-LEAF CLOVER.

I know a place where the sun is like gold,
And the cherry blooms burst with snow.
And down underneath is the loveliest nook,
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.
One leaf is for hope, and one for faith,
And one is for love, you know,
And God put another one in for luck—
If you search you will find where they grow.

But you must have hope, and you must have faith,
You must love and be strong—and so—
If you work, if you wait, you will find the place
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.

STATE FARMERS' UNION CAMPAIGN FOR POOLING.

At the meeting of the state board of the Kentucky Farmers' Union yesterday it was decided to institute a campaign over the state for the pledging of tobacco and farm products. The new board was organized and is beginning the year's work with the general campaign. By next year it is expected to show a large increase over the report made at the state convention this year. In order that the state office may be located more centrally the office of Secretary-Treasurer R. L. Barnett will be removed from Paducah. A committee was appointed to decide upon the location. It is the opinion that Louisville will be selected for the location.

MARY NELSON HAD CONCEALED THE FIVE.

"Coughed Up," Though, When Confronted with Alternative of GOING TO JAIL.

Using her mouth as a purse, Mary Nelson, colored, was detained yesterday afternoon by Patrolman C. D. Gilliam until Mary literally coughed up a $5 bill that it was alleged she had stolen from Beda Sanders, colored. Highly excited Mary Nelson rushed up to Patrolman Gilliam, who is on duty at the Union station yesterday afternoon and inquired what was the first train out for Nashville. A short time later Beda Sanders reached the station on the run and told Patrolman Gilliam the story how Mary Nelson had robbed her of a five dollar bill. From the description he realized that it was the same woman that inquired about a train for Nashville.

Soon Mary appeared on the scene, and he took her in charge. She protested her innocence in vigorous terms, but was confronted with Beda who exclaimed "Yo knows that dat yonse has got dat $5 bill of mine."
"No, I hasn't," bluffed Mary.
"Well come on down to the police station," said Patrolman Gilliam, "and you can settle that in court."
"Say, Beda, if I gives up that money will you let me go?" weakened Mary.
"Sure," replied her accuser, rolling her tongue around she spit out the $5 bill as if it were a quid of tobacco. "Deres you cle money," answered Mary and she was released.

Lacrosse in the West.

"The spread of lacrosse through the middle western states as an autumn sport is one of the most remarkable developments of late years," said H. F. Dimmock, of St. Joseph, Mo.

"The sport has taken firm hold of the people and is played as an acceptable substitute for football in many states. It has not been generally introduced in the colleges, although the Rugby or English style of football is gaining headway. But it is quietly being played by thousands of semi-professional and amateur teams which do not figure much in the public prints, but are a vital factor in the sports of the middle west.

"The American style of football is bound to go, and when the eastern colleges reform it it will lose prestige everywhere. It will be followed by Rugby football and lacrosse in the middle west."—Washington Post.

HEAT MAKES CHILDREN ILL

Summer is a very trying period for young children, and many a child who is usually healthy suffers during the heated term. There are many dangers for the child in summer. These lie in milk, food, water, fruit, etc. The greatest peril is from some form of stomach or bowel trouble. It is usually the starting point of graver troubles. The child becomes constipated, or gets indigestion. Perspiration is interfered with, worms develop, the skin becomes scaly and itchy, and the poor child is in much misery. Do not let it go, and trust to luck or fate for a cure. Use a remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is intended to cure that very condition and is especially adapted to children's ills because of its mildness and purity. If the child has any of these symptoms, or has not had a passage in 24 hours, it needs Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at once. It will act promptly but gently, and as it is pleasant to take you will not have to force it. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist at 50 cents or $1.00, and you should obtain a bottle today, so as to have it on hand for an emergency. If you have never tried it you can obtain a SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE OF CHARGE by addressing DR. W. B. CALDWELL, 400 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Daily Thought.

To harbor fretful and discontented thoughts is to do yourself more injury than it is in the power of your greatest enemy to do you.—Mason.

Vice-President Sherman may have to submit to a probe to see if anything was broken off in him when he was Gored.

Race suicide seems to be unknown among weeds and vermin. It is only the cultivated animal or vegetable, which degenerates.

A guard at the Ohio reformatory has been stabbed to death by an inmate. Even a model institution like the Ohio reformatory has its black sheep.

The international Esperanto congress will convene at Washington next week. This is the first session of the organization since the Tower of Babel debacle.

A woman, whose horse frightened at an auto, was killed at Lexington. Now, a delicate question arises: which is the more dangerous, driving a horse or running an automobile?

Lack of explicitness leaves us in doubt whether Mr. Bryan thinks those Illinois Democrats who voted for Lorimer should be retired; because they voted for a Republican or because they very obviously were bought up.

The railroads killed only 1,100 and maimed 21,232 the first three months of this year. Those figures are insignificant compared with the losses at the battle of Gettysburg in three days.

A political boss is easily distinguished by the facts that he belongs to a ring, wears gum shoes, has a slate, carries the vote of his precinct in his vest pocket and defies the will of the people.

Conn Linn will leave his home at Murray to Pitt. The monosyllabic alliteration of that inversion is no more deceptive than the double final consonants in Conn's own name. At Frankfort, 'tis said, the senator's movements were ever distinguished by a lingering pit-pat.

Vice-President Sherman suffers the common injustice of mankind: the charges against him made by Senator Gore were published on the front page in big headlines; but by the time his denial was secured, it had become an old story, and a fresher

RESULTS IN TENNESSEE

Patterson May Withdraw.
As nearly as can be told at this writing, the Patterson candidates for the supreme court and the court of civil appeals have been defeated by something near 40,000, and have not carried more than a dozen of the 96 counties of Tennessee. These figures may not be exact. So far as we have read his utterances, Governor Patterson has never in so many words denied attempting to coerce the court.

There is a rumor that he will retire from the race for re-election, resign the nomination which a non-descript primary awarded him and leave politics forever. The election of the insurgents was not the mere beginning of the end; it was the end itself. There may be writhing and tortuous pains in the old machine for an hour or for a day, but the life has been crushed out of its body and it will never lift its head again.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

Defeat In November.

But the great and overshadowing good to be considered, and, as Tennesseans, to be thankful for, is that the rebuke so justly and forcibly administered to autocratic usurpation and machine rule will show to the outside world that our state has thrown off the yoke that has galled her for four long years, for upon the result of the judicial election we feel that it is safe to predicate the over-sensations crowded it into an obscure corner inside most newspapers.

That confounded Republican congress, that took away the pass privilege, when it created the interstate commerce commission, has put the telegraph companies under control of the commission, and, now the telegraph franking privilege is to be abolished August 17. When the Socialists win everybody will ride free and send night telegraph letters for nothing.

"LET US BE HUMAN IF NOT HUMANE."

"Senator Gore, the blind senator of Oklahoma, has put some of the fellows 'higher up' to squirming, including Vice President Sherman. Mr. Gore tells his story in a straightforward manner, and it is going to require some tall explaining. Mr. Sherman denies, but a mere denial 'won't wash' with the public," says the Owensboro Enquirer.

Why, sure, that's fair play. When a man's character is aspersed by another it is up to him to prove himself innocent; not for the other to prove his charge. Believe everything ill you hear of your fellow man, and laugh at his denial: that's the way to cultivate a bright outlook on life; to sweeten your disposition; to make yourself an optimistic factor in the progress of this world, and to develop a capacity for usefulness and enjoyment in the next.

We like to contemplate human nature as exemplified, not only by men in conspicuous positions, but by their critics.

Life would be dull, indeed, without these frailties. We would have you no different, Brother Opiner of the Enquirer, if we had the privilege of making you over. You're so human and funny.

IS INSURGENCY A MOVEMENT OR A MOB?

In the hour of victory the insurgent cause is most in danger. If that independence of spirit, which defies the dictation of an organization, can maintain unity of purpose and concert of action among its constituent elements, playing a part in the program of evolution, willing to surrender on immaterial points that harmony and co-operation may prevail where principle is at stake, they will take the Republican party with them. But, if insurgency is just the mixed chorus of opposition, agreeing only in their denunciation of the old organization leaders, and differing among themselves on all matters of affirmative policy, the movement will react and progressive democracy will suffer at the hands of a mob of its friends.

STATE PRESS.

About McCreary.

The Owensboro Messenger seems to strike the nail directly on the head in the following editorial expression:

"There is not a law abiding citizen in Kentucky who does not want to see every night rider in the state punished to the full extent of the law, but the true Kentuckian hangs his head in shame at the harmful notoriety Gus Willson has given the state since he has been in the governor's chair."—News-Democrat.

The announcement of former Senator James B. McCreary that he will go after the Democratic nomination for governor seems to the writer to let all the other candidates out. The man who was known as the "model governor" will be known as such again.—Lexington Herald.

Johnson, Head, Adams, et al. will save money and pride by gracefully getting off the track and letting the grand old warhorse McCreary have the race to his lonesome.—Hopkinsville, Ky., New Era.

Senator McCreary has been in-throw of the Patterson autocracy in November.—Jackson Sun.

Freedom of Judiciary.

In a contest based upon the issue, the freedom of the supreme court from executive domination, and in which Pattersonism was on trial, the independent ticket of the supreme court and court of civil appeals won a decisive victory.—Nashville Banner.

Conquered Seek Peace.

Now that the election is over it will be well to settle down to business. Commercially the city was upset Thursday and merchants are glad that the day has become one of the past history.—Commercial Appeal.

Patterson Can't Recover.

Beyond a doubt, the tremendous majority of the independent judicial ticket plainly forecasts the utter wreck of the Patterson machine, and the end of the rule of the dictator in Tennessee politics, where he has been but to blight and curse the state. From such a staggering blow he cannot rally, for he voluntarily linked his interests with that of his ticket. Their utter defeat carries with it the passing of Pattersonism. For this much desired result, the people of Tennessee can return thanks today.—Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle.

duced to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, Senator McCreary's political life is a good part of the history of Kentucky. He has given the state faithful service in days gone by and has added lustre to the fame of Kentucky abroad. It seems the irony of fate, however, that the men who brought about the defeat of the sage of Richmond in the senatorial primary should be the ones who are grooming him for the gubernatorial handicap. But we shall see what we see.—Owensboro Messenger.

Is it possible former Senator McCreary has not heard that our own Mayor Head is after the gubernatorial nomination?—Louisville Herald.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

The Poultry Exhibit.

The Sun is much interested in seeing the Kentucky Exhibit at the Paducah Fair, September 23rd-October 1st, the greatest state exhibit of poultry ever shown in this section. Of course there will be birds from several different states and birds of quality but what Kentucky breeders should do is to make the state exhibit at this fair one that will attract the attention of the poultry world. There is no better opportunity to show the people who are interested in poultry what Kentucky can do than right here at our Paducah Fair. Let every breeder in the purchase resolve right now to make an exhibit at the Paducah Fair Poultry show in September even if it be but a few birds and the result will be of untold value to the poultry owners of this section. It is a duty every breeder not only owes himself but to the state in which he lives, to boost for the Paducah Fair Poultry show of September 1910. A FANCIER.

THE BACKGROUND OF THEIR ROMANCE

UNHOLY PASSION AND BROKEN UP HOME.

Dr. Stewart and Bride Met When Husband of Latter Was in Hospital.

OFFICERS LOOKING FOR THEM

Mixed with the romance of Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Stewart, who were married at the court house last Wednesday morning by County Judge Alben W. Barkley is a story of sordid passion. The real story comes from Evansville, where Dr. Stewart two years ago was employed at the marine hospital. His present wife was formerly Miss Grace Littlemyer, and resided at Ogden's Landing, but married Mr. Price.

Her first husband became ill and he was admitted to the marine hospital in Evansville. It was while visiting her husband at the hospital that she met Dr. Stewart. It is said that the two fell in love at sight. As a climax she deserted her husband, while Dr. Stewart sent his resignation in as a member of the hospital corps, and the two disappeared. Since then numerous efforts have been made by her husband to ascertain the whereabouts of his wife, but they were fruitless.

When the news reached Evansville that they were married in Paducah Wednesday it was the first that the police had learned of the couple, although they made no effort to find them, as a warrant was not sworn out.

When the marriage license was issued Dr. Stewart gave his occupation as a pharmacist and Louisville as his home. The certificate shows that it was his second marriage. The bride is a pretty young woman, while Dr. Stewart is an intelligent looking man. The ceremony was performed at the court house and immediately afterwards the couple left. Only recently Mr. Price was killed in a railroad accident near Memphis and the marriage of Mrs. Price followed.

DID—DIDN'T.

Each Prisoner Accuses Other of Cursing Him.

Lack of witnesses for both sides resulted in the continuance of a most mixed up affair in police court this morning. It was the case of "Big Jim" Watkins and Foster Wynn, both colored, who are alleged to have furnished different forms of excitement near Eleventh and Caldwell streets about 10 o'clock last night. "Big Jim" took the stand and before he finished testifying he had gone through every motion he made last night, except repeating his spirit when Wynn chased him. Jim said Wynn, a visitor, had been talking about him and when he asked about it, Wynn cursed him and chased him with a pistol. Jim ran after a shot gun and on returning he could not find Wynn. Wynn said Jim cursed him instead and threatened to shoot him to pieces. The case was reset for Monday.

BREWERY COMPANY'S ICE SEIZED UPON BY POOR

Ice for nothing. That has been responsible for the large crowds around the plant of the Paducah Brewery company for several days. Recently the company increased the output of the ice making plant, and this week the machinery is being adjusted and arranged. The first cakes of ice were somewhat cloudy, and were thrown away. A large crowd soon got wise, and waited for the ice. Every cake of ice that was placed in the yard was pounced upon and broken into smaller pieces and carried home. Most every kind of conveyance was used to convey the ice from the plant.

LAUNDRY DRIVER

SUES FORMER EMPLOYER FOR $10,000 DAMAGES.

Says He Was Falsely Accused of Being Short in His Account With Firm.

Suit for $10,000 has been filed in the McCracken county circuit court by Ed W. Watts against Frank Wahl, the well known laundry proprietor, for damages because of alleged statements regarding the honesty of the plaintiff. Until recently Watts was a wagon driver for the Home laundry and he recites that after three years' service that he quit May 24, 1908. He alleges that Mr. Wahl notified him to make a settlement with the laundry, and that on July 16 Mr. Wahl in the presence of witnesses said: "My books show a shortage on your part of $153.94." By the statement being used in the presence of witnesses Mr. Wahl claims that his reputation has been damaged greatly, and seeks to recover damages. The suit was filed by Attorney Washburn & Neely.

"In connection with the transfer Mr. Carlton will operate a fine gasoline launch. A Tribune man inspected the boat yesterday and found it a beauty. ENGINEERS SEEK RAISE.

Sixty-Two Western Railroads Affected by Demand.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Locomotive engineers on 62 western railroads will immediately present new wage scales for an increase of 15 to 18 per cent. The roads affected are all those west of and including the Illinois Central and a line drawn from Chicago to Fort William, Ont. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois and the Evansville and Terre Haute, belonging to the "Prisco lines," will be included. Negotiations are expected to begin within 50 days.

The chairman of the adjustment committees of the roads involved their meeting at the Great Northern hotel today, and then left for the respective general offices of the companies to present the new schedule. This will require nearly a week on the far western lines. The proposed schedules also include an advance for switch engineers of all the railroads entering Chicago. Their wages will be fixed at the same money as the passenger, freight and other engineers. From 30 to 60 days' notice is required of a proposed change in schedules.

Each operating manager will be asked in the letter accompanying the new schedules to agree to settle the whole wage question of all the roads at one time. This method was used several years ago and the roads will appoint a committee to handle the matter. The conferences will probably be held in Chicago.

The chairman of the adjustment committees of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen are meeting in St. Louis to make new schedules for the same roads.

Why Have an Overheated Kitchen in Summer?

When the sultry days come and the coal range makes the kitchen almost unbearable and cooking a dreaded task, put out the range fire and try the newest method of cooking in hot weather—use a

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

What a contrast! The kitchen no longer is stifling hot, the work is now done with comfort, and the housewife is not worn out with the heat.

She saves her strength, keeps her health and is better able to enjoy the summer.

The New Perfection does everything that any other stove can do—all the family cooking, baking, washing and ironing. No smoke, no dust, no odor. Heat is applied directly and not wasted. A turn, and the flame is out.

The New Perfection stove has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for the coffee pot or saucepans, and nickel-plated towel racks.

It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove very attractive and invites cleanliness. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, the 2 and 3 burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

Tiresomeness of Virtue.

The world—the intelligent world, at least—instinctively avoids that which bores it; and surely a man could not ask better fortune than that his friends should ignore his faults. It is when they have to ignore his faults. It is when they have to ignore his virtues that he is in a desperate case. Poor Ursa Major cannot be held fairly to blame for the opposite condition which exists with it. It has to be obvious. Nature has carved it conspicuously and set it prominently to work; it would defeat its own destiny if it tried to be quiet about it. That north star is an important thing. People are careless, and they get lost; and then they are stupid and cannot find their way again. It is absolutely essential that somebody or something stand forth very boldly, not to say baldly, and point an infallible finger in one direction. But people are not always lost; and when they are sitting safely in their front yards or lying in their orchards they are sometimes apt to grow weary of perpetual north star.

The women of Lausanne recently exercised for the first time their right to vote in church affairs. The election was for church wardens in the National Evangelical Church of the Canton of Vaud. In all 1,020 registered and 757 voted. The church elections were held throughout the canton, and everywhere a majority of the votes were cast by women.

I. C. RAILROAD TO PRESS CHARGES

INSTITUTION OF CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS CONSIDERED.

With Termination of Judiciary Election, Memphis Lawyer Free to Take Up Graft Cases.

BRIGGS TO RESUME INQUIRY.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 6.—With the termination of the judiciary elections in Tennessee, A. W. Briggs, attorney for the Illinois Central Railroad company, is now free to return to Chicago next week and take up again the examination of witnesses in the hearing on the subject of car repair thefts from the transportation company. Whether criminal proceedings will be instituted at about the same time is under consideration in the office of the state's attorney.

It is the intention of the Illinois Central officers to press the criminal charges against the conspirators, including four of their own employees and two officials of repair companies, but their reluctance to have the evidence of graft presented in a criminal court before it has been brought out in a civil proceeding has been a drawback to the state's attorney. However, if immediate criminal action is decided upon, warrants for information probably will be presented in the municipal court and the men charged with crime held to the grand jury.

The hearing in the civil case against the Memphis Car company is now set for Monday. That in the conspiracy case will come up Tuesday.

Times For All Things. Here's one farmer who does not believe in things out of season.

A number of cyclists were taking a ride through New Jersey. Becoming thirsty they stopped at a farmhouse and asked the farmer if they could get a drink.

"Certainly," replied the farmer. "But I've only got buttermilk."

"Great!" replied the cyclists in unison. "Just what we're after."

The farmer then proceeded to bring out the buttermilk.

"Great stuff," remarked one of the cyclists, "but it would be better still if it had some ice in it."

"Have you any ice?" asked one of the men to the farmer.

"Ice!" exclaimed the farmer. "Whoever heard of ice in the latter part of April?"—Philadelphia Times.

NIGHT RIDERS

revolver and commenced firing at the ground.

According to Lieutenant Colonel Bassett, this was very likely a pre-arranged signal, for two men pretending to be friends of Cooper closed in on him and held his hands. Nevertheless, Cooper managed to draw his pistol, but its discharge was harmless, for his assailants deflected his aim.

The two men who are said to have held him are Bryan Hawkins and Alonzo Gray, the latter striking him twice with a pair of brass knuckles and knocking him to the earth. By this time quite a group had gathered but it was dispersed when some one shouted, "Get out of the way, I'm going to shoot!"

Roy Merrick is said to have shot Cooper first, four shots taking effect in his body. Fraud Murphy emerged from the crowd, fired two shots into Cooper's body, then darted back and disappeared in the crowd again. Others who assisted in the fusillade were Bayless Mitchell and the two Creekmoors. After the shooting some of the men involved assisted in carrying the inert body to the farmhouse and applying restoratives. This was done presumably to ascertain whether the shots were fatal and to watch for any dying confession that the injured man might make.

Col. Bassett's View.

That the killing was the result of a conspiracy is the firm belief of Lieutenant Colonel Bassett, who points out that Cooper was warned, two weeks ago, to leave Oliver's place, and less than a week ago received a warning not to attend the barbecue, that resulted so disastrously. At the inquest it was learned that Cooper was pointed out to several men who did not know him. Besides having been shot by the night riders and having his farm help killed by alleged night rider conspirators, Milton Oliver is having other troubles.

Terrorized by the vindictive murder of Cooper, Bert Gray, the son-in-law of Oliver, has refused to help his father-in-law gather in the hay.

"Not that he didn't want to do it," said Oliver, "but he is just afraid to. They have got one of Oliver's hands and they are going after the rest."

Oliver is also unable to get any one to thresh his wheat for him, and some 200 bushels are rotting on his farm.

Tried to Stop Fray.

An interesting bit of testimony was that by a soldier perched on the fence with a rifle over his shoulder. Colonel Bassett displayed the cunning of the murderers was secured concerning Mrs. Lee Curtis, Oliver's niece and the daughter of Robert Merrick. Mrs. Curtis saw that a fray was imminent and seized Merrick's pistol to prevent him from engaging in any difficulty. Bryan Hawkins pleaded with her to give Roy Merrick his pistol, saying, "Give him his gun and I'll see that he doesn't use it." No sooner had Mrs. Curtis relinquished her grasp on the weapon than Merrick began firing. Jim Bozarth's name was included in the list of accused, because of the testimony given by Mrs. W. T. Litchfield, wife of the man on whose grounds the barbecue was given. She realistically imitated Bozarth, shouting, during the fusillade, "Put it to him, the ———. He ought to have been killed long ago."

What Cash Says.

Sheriff T. L. Cash, of Lyon county, denies that the fight was the result of any conspiracy or plot, but declares it the outcome of a drunken orgy. He said that whisky bottles were scattered profusely around the barbecue grounds, and that liquor flowed copiously. The prisoners also claim that many of the merry-makers were drunk.

According to Lieutenant Colonel Bassett, Lyon county is the hotbed and genesis of night rider troubles. The scope of their work is confined within a radius of ten miles from the heart of this county. He is of the opinion that the outrages will not be stopped until the county is put under martial law and a few of the ring-leaders caught and hanged for examples. As typical of the condition of affairs that exist in that county today he pointed to a neighboring field where Milton Oliver and his son were working in a tobacco patch guarded by soldiers. He charges that few offenders are brought to justice because certain public officers are lax in the execution of their duty, due to sympathy with the night rider movement. In fact, most of the prominent officials were included in the list of defendants in the suits filed by L. M. Woods and ex-Police Judge Rucker, formerly of Edyville, in the federal courts, charging members of the Dark Tobacco Planters' Protective association with engaging in desperate and murderous tactics to compel all tobacco growers to join their organization. These suits were compromised.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER VI

THE MYSTERY OF THE EMPORIUM.

YOUNG Mr. Carson, detained at the Slattery institute to balance the books on account of the establishment of Mr. Wylle, thought often of Shayne's charming niece, but, manlike, gave scarcely a thought of the situation on board the Hoe as she bore northward in the night sky after dropping him as a hawk might let fall a too belligerent weasel.

The warfare and insurrection which he left behind would have interested him had he known. Mr. Silberberg, hurt in amour propre as well as in pocket, was deeply disturbed in his sultanly regard for Virginia. He was too angry to follow her to the deck as she swept out of the cabin to take leave of her hand of the dunes. For some minutes the girl lay, half fainting, wholly terrified, by the rail, where she had fallen as Theodore dropped over the side into the cloud and the night.

"Where is Virginia?" queried Aunt Marie at last. "Has she eloped with that creature? Look for her! She's my niece, after all!"

Mr. Shayne called Mrs. Shayne's maid and gave orders that Virginia be sought on deck. The maid looked about hastily and, failing to observe the little heap in which Virginia sat huddled up by the rail, ran in agitatedly and said that Miss Suarez was not on deck "in the least."

"I told you," gasped Mrs. Shayne. "She's thrown herself away!"

Silberberg walked glumly in from the cabin.

"This assassin," said he, "must be aft with the crew. There's only one place where Miss Suarez can be."

Shayne ran aft and astonished the crew by bursting into their midst and staring wildly about, as if demented.

"What is it, sir?" Willett asked calmly.

"Where is Miss Suarez?" panted Mr. Shayne.

"I don't know, sir."

"Where's that fellow we picked up?"

"I don't know," responded Willett.

"They're gone!" Shayne exclaimed, rushing into the cabin. "Max, they've gone over the side!"

"That parachute," said Max, "could not save two from death, even if they made a good drop. And in this darkness!"

Virginia, having recovered her self possession and the control of her knees, rose and, entering her cabin, threw herself on her bed. She felt a horror of Silberberg, a sense of disgust with the Shaynes. To think that they could so insult this young man who had saved her life and treated her so beautifully, no matter what he was—to offer him money, to send him aft like a servant! No wonder he had struck Silberberg's odious nose. Later she rose, preened like a bird before the mirror and sat down to think. The voices of her uncle and aunt and Mr. Silberberg came to her ears from the main salon. Opening her window for air, she noted that the roar of the wind from the earth had ceased and knew that they had reached the calm area, of which Willett had spoken, in the middle of the "low." They would probably have an easy landing in Chicago. And then?

One thing was certain—she would not live longer with the Shaynes. They were too sordid, too hard, too cruel. And she would—not stay—with them—any longer!

Oh, if she only had just one relative in the world save Aunt Marie!

Stay! The thought struck her of her mother's father's people, somewhere in the south. Her mother had been disowned by her family for a perversely contracted marriage, but they were southerners, and they would not see an orphan girl of their kin go homeless. She would leave Aunt Marie a note of thanks for all her many kindnesses, take her really, truly own belongings and fly south. So there!

So resolving, she became quite calm and walked into the main salon in a very matter of fact way. Aunt Marie gave a shrill scream and fainted. Silberberg said that he would be—tormented. Mr. Shayne stared blankly.

"Well," said Virginia, "do you think I am a ghost?"

"Oh, child," gasped Aunt Marie, "where have you been with him?"

Virginia stood still, her eyes ablaze, her cheeks burning. The Roc was coming into the Chicago garage on the roof of the Aerostatic Power building in a most beautiful landing, but none of the party knew it. Silberberg was gazing at the enraged Virginia in unbounded admiration. Her splendid anger had won him back. Shayne spoke in foolish agreement with his wife, half believing for the moment that there was something questionable in Virginia's absence.

"With a beggar!" said he.

"A bandit," said Aunt Marie, "an assassin!"

"A beggar!" repeated Virginia in lofty scorn. "Why, even if he were one, in rags and a hovel, he'd be worth a million like you! An assassin, a bandit! And if he is, what are you? You rob by syndicate, assassinate by general managers and superintendents and make beggars by votes of shares! I loathe you, and I—I—I admit him as much as I loathe you. As between bandits like you and bandits like him give me the brave man rather than the coward!"

Willitt interrupted the scene by announcing their successful landing. They passed constrainedly into the tower and went down to the street and to Shayne's Chicago hotel in a motor-car, all in silence.

In the morning a letter was taken to the Shayne apartments. It was a short, tear stained missive of gratitude, penitence and farewell from Virginia to her aunt. "I ran."

You have been as kind to me as any woman can be to a person she cannot love. You have never loved me, Aunt Marie, and you will never see me again. I blush to be obliged by your unjust suspicions to say one thing more. I am no going to any one. You have misjudged me terribly. I don't even know where he is. I shall never know!

Craighead and Carson walked through a stately peristyle to a low building called the laboratory, but termed by the patients the "shot tower." Theodore was astonished at the throng assembled for the "shot" treatment, of which he had as yet no conception—men of all sorts anxiously watching the clock like schoolboys fearful of being tardy. They formed in two columns, resting on two aisles, across the farther ends of which stood two desks exactly alike. All slung their coats over their right arms, disclosing slits in their shirts at the left shoulder.

Craighead, with Carson following sent back ripples of disorder along the line by offering bets as to whether Carson was himself or Wylle. Two young men easily classified as new hatched physicians stationed themselves like sentinels at the desks. The

"I admire him as much as I loathe him," said Theodore.

"I don't know, sir."

"Where's that fellow we picked up?"

"I don't know," responded Willett.

"They're gone!" Shayne exclaimed, rushing into the cabin. "Max, they've gone over the side!"

"That parachute," said Max, "could not save two from death, even if they made a good drop. And in this darkness!"

Virginia, having recovered her self possession and the control of her knees, rose and, entering her cabin, threw herself on her bed. She felt a horror of Silberberg, a sense of disgust with the Shaynes. To think that they could so insult this young man who had saved her life and treated her so beautifully, no matter what he was—to offer him money, to send him aft like a servant! No wonder he had struck Silberberg's odious nose. Later she rose, preened like a bird before the mirror and sat down to think. The voices of her uncle and aunt and Mr. Silberberg came to her ears from the main salon. Opening her window for air, she noted that the roar of the wind from the earth had ceased and knew that they had reached the calm area, of which Willett had spoken, in the middle of the "low." They would probably have an easy landing in Chicago. And then?

One thing was certain—she would not live longer with the Shaynes. They were too sordid, too hard, too cruel. And she would—not stay—with them—any longer!

Oh, if she only had just one relative in the world save Aunt Marie!

Stay! The thought struck her of her mother's father's people, somewhere in the south. Her mother had been disowned by her family for a perversely contracted marriage, but they were southerners, and they would not see an orphan girl of their kin go homeless. She would leave Aunt Marie a note of thanks for all her many kindnesses, take her really, truly own belongings and fly south. So there!

So resolving, she became quite calm and walked into the main salon in a very matter of fact way. Aunt Marie gave a shrill scream and fainted. Silberberg said that he would be—tormented. Mr. Shayne stared blankly.

"Well," said Virginia, "do you think I am a ghost?"

"Oh, child," gasped Aunt Marie, "where have you been with him?"

Virginia stood still, her eyes ablaze, her cheeks burning. The Roc was coming into the Chicago garage on the roof of the Aerostatic Power building in a most beautiful landing, but none of the party knew it. Shayne spoke in foolish agreement with his wife, half believing for the moment that there was something questionable in Virginia's absence.

You rob by syndicate, assassinate by general managers and superintendents and make beggars by votes of shares! I loathe you, and I—I—I admit him as much as I loathe you. As between bandits like you and bandits like him give me the brave man rather than the coward!"

Willitt interrupted the scene by an-size, who at once began the coursing of imaginary game on the wall paper, slapping his thigh and laughing at every failure.

"This," said Mr. O'Grady, introducing the indoor huntsman, "is Mr. Wylle, Mr. Carson."

"My worst fears confirmed!" hissed Craighead. "The one man I ever loved turns out to be—oh, ye gods, both a teller of truth and a victim of regular habits! The last straw and no julep!"

Carson looked at Wylle, awaiting Mr. O'Grady's development of his case.

"We are, of course," said O'Grady, "sorry to have interfered with your plans, Mr. Carson, but—"

Mr. O'Grady's grave discourse, in which Carson could feel himself being placed irrevocably in the wrong, was interrupted by Mr. Wylle's making a swoop upon an imaginary animal on Mr. O'Grady's nose.

"I most caught him," he cried. "A bumblebee! A bumblebee! Sunday, gnats; mosquitoes, Monday; Tuesday, flies; bees, Wednesday; hornets yesterday and bumblebees today. Big game soon! Ha, ha, ha, ha! Whoop!"

"Long lost brother evidently," remarked Craighead. "I note the Craighead strawberry mark. Well, when he gets to elephants I may claim relationship."

"Of course," went on Mr. O'Grady, paying no attention to the Wylle incident except to use and examine for blood stains a neatly folded handkerchief, "your being found in the greenhouse has been partially explained, sir, and we are not disposed to make you trouble. In fact, with our customary liberality we shall leave to you both that and your board and lodgings since you so strangely came into our—into our midst."

"Hear, hear!" ejaculated Craighead. "Hooroar for the emporium!"

"And if you will kindly sign these mutual receipts in full for all claims on both sides we will give Mr. Wylle his room, and—here's the pen, Mr. Carson, sir."

Theodore had already made the first stroke of the "T" when Craighead rushed upon him like a whirlwind, snatched the pen, buried it into the door like a javelin, where it stood quivering, and interposed between Carson and O'Grady.

"Calit, avant!" he roared. "Wilt deprive the widows and orphans this youth may accumulate of their cause of action against this dope shoten emporium? Back, slave! You reach him only over my dead body! Receipts in full! Not on your life—to coin an expression. You have shot his patriotic blood full of dishwater and bug juice. You have filled his innocent and unworried stomach with dope. You have amputated his appetite for light wines and may as well pass him the darker drink first as last. He has suffered and must ever suffer most excruciating pain and agony and both mental and physical anguish. He's a gone goner! And I, the greatest personal injury specialist in the legal world, as his attorney demand ten—thousand—plunks as damages, failing the receipt of which, well and truly to be paid in lawful money of the realm, we'll take the emporium in execution and make Witherspoon a stable boy, with you as assistant swine, both of you to sleep with Tige! We don't sign nothin', see?"

Ball Bearings for Trolley Cars.

In one of the papers read at the Jefferson convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, attention was called to the fact that the consumption of energy could be materially reduced by equipping cars with ball bearings. The importance of letting a car coast as much as possible without disturbing the schedule is coming to be appreciated. On some of the roads clocks are provided which register the time during which a car is coasting, thus keeping a check on the motorman and insuring a more economical operation of the road. By using ball bearing on the street cars the coasting periods could be materially extended, thus effecting a further saving of energy. Furthermore, the passengers would find their ride more comfortable and the maintenance charges on brakes and motors would be reduced.—Scientific American.

August is the Best Month for Summer Underwear prices of both Men's and Boys' Balbriggan Undershirts and Drawers at 19c, 24c and 29c, made to sell at 25c and 50c a garment.

Women's Gauze Vests

We have a great stock of Women's Gauze Vest bargains for this August sale. Were you to go into the dry goods business you'd wonder how we could afford to sell these gauze vests for less than you could buy them. Our next week's prices of 5c to 8c tell the story. Come and see the good quality.

OUR LOW PRICES FOR

Ginghams, Lawns, Skirts, Domestic, etc., Are Made to Turn a Generally Dull August Into a Busy Month.

It simply means big sales, but no profits. This statement doesn't seem true on its face, but what difference does it make to you in so far as the goods are so much below current prices. It's the price you have to pay that interests you and not what the goods cost regularly at wholesale. Note the items below:

The whole sale price of Silk Novelty Ginghams is such that to get a profit they have to be sold at 25c a yard. We are selling them in this August sale at 17½c a yard.

To show a profit these fine Dress Ginghams we are selling at 9½c would have to be sold at 12½c a yard and every yard of them is needed for making school dresses. When this sale is over the price will again be 12½c a yard.

These Apron Ginghams at 5c a yard will again have to be 7½c to 8 1-3c a yard.

These Bleached Muslins at 7½c, 8 1-3c and 10c a yard will have to be 9c, 10c and 12½c a yard.

A 5c Bleached Domestic Bargain

This is a yard wide, soft finished Bleached Muslin not made to sell at so ridiculous a price as 5c; 8 1-3c a yard was the intention, but to boom August we'll sell limited quantities to each customer next week at 5c a yard. Just be reasonable and don't insist on more than about 10 yards each, so that your neighbors and friends may get their share.

Hosiery Bargains

We are justly vain over the splendid Hosiery bargains we have bought to supply your fall wants. Not just enough for a day, a week or a month, but enough for the whole season. We have been using our cash to save you money, that's why it always pays to buy here. But we started to tell you about these August bargains.

At 7½c a pair. Where else can you buy Women's black summer weight Hosiery with ribbed tops for 7½c a pair? Not in Paducah.

25c Full Shaped Hose for 17c a Pair

Trueshape Hose for Women are exploited and advertised in magazines and other periodicals as one of the best 25c hose on the market. There is nothing wrong with them here except the price—17c a pair.

Umbrella Bargains

We are looking for our second purchase of a gilt handle 26-inch black Umbrella that will sell for 97c each. A knowing representative of a prominent umbrella manufacturer marveled that we could buy so good an umbrella to sell at 97c.

A $1.95 Silk Umbrella Bargain

This is also a second purchase which we expect to arrive early next week. Judges of umbrellas esteem them the equal of those being sold in general at $2.00 each. We could not get many of them, but while they last take them at $1.95 each.

Colored Parasols

Just remember this: If you want a colored Parasol we are yours with prices halved.

We Ought to Tell You About Bargains in Our Great Shoe Stock

We know they are there, but it's most difficult to talk intelligently about them because our shoe manager failed to hand in his memoranda of special bargains grouped for next week's sale. The bargains in Strap Slippers, Oxford Ties and all low Shoes are numerous and we believe that it will be decidedly to your interest to look them over if you are interested in footwear.

40c China Mattings 25c

Do you believe it? Customers tell us this is true. They have told us until we believe it. It's the most serviceable matting you can put on your floor. Other matting bargains are here.

August One of the Best Bargain Months of the Year for Clothing

This simple assertion doesn't make it true, but the magnificent values we give in Suits at $7.50 to $12.50 in August does make it true.

We are selling out Men's Work Pants, made of covert cloth, to sell at $1.00, for 75c a pair.

Several hundred pairs of Men's summer weight Pants are being closed out at $1.50 and $2.00 a pair.

Hundreds of Straw Hats for boys, girls and men are on bargain tables.

Scores of Shirts, Collars and Ties have their prices clipped for this August sale.

KENTUCKY'S TURN TO PLACE STATUE

LINCOLN AND DAVIS ARE TALKED OF AT WASHINGTON.

Statue of General Lee Has Never Been Veiled in Statuary Hall.

NO CEREMONY WILL ATTEND.

Washington, Aug. 6.—For two seasons no steps were taken during the last session of congress to have accepted the bronze statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee, presented to the nation by the state of Virginia. One was that the late Senator John W. Daniel was ill and unable to participate in any of the proceedings. Whenever inquiry was made as to the probability of fixing a date for the exercises the answer to the question was always that nothing could be done until Senator Daniel was well enough to come to Washington. He was, it was explained, the senior member of the Virginia delegation in congress.

Meanwhile the bronze figure of General Lee has been assigned its place in Statuary hall, and the mention of that fact in the newspapers caused most of the visitors to view the figure of the commanding officer of the Confederate forces first of all objects in the capitol.

Statue Was Never Veiled.

In nearly every instance the practice, when a statue is received, has been to keep the figure covered until the day when it is officially received, the wrapping then being removed to make it properly an unveiling in the presence of those who come from a distance. This was done with nearly all of the statues that have been received within the past twelve or fifteen years, notably those of Kenna and Pierpont, of West Virginia; of Benton and Blair, of Missouri; Gen. Lew Wallace, of Indiana; Webster, of Massachusetts; and others. But no covering was kept on the statue of General Lee. As soon as it was mounted on the pedestal it was uncovered, and so was the reproduction of Houdon's statue of Gen. George Washington, which is next to that of General Lee, in the south end of the hall.

Now that Attorney General Wickham has given an opinion, approved by President Taft, that under the law Virginia cannot be estopped from placing the Lee statue in the hall, the belief here is that at the next session of congress the proper steps will be taken to have the resolutions offered in both branches and a day fixed for the exercises and the acceptance on the part of congress of the statues presented by Virginia.

As the senior members of the delegations from the Old Dominion, this duty will doubtless devolve upon Senator Martin and Representative Jones.

No Ceremony, Perhaps.

In view of the agitation that has been caused over the Lee statue, it may happen that only a resolution will be offered in the senate and house and the formal ceremony in Statuary hall will be omitted. There is precedent for this. No formal exercises were held or addresses delivered in connection with the statue of Dr. Jabez L. M. Curry, which was presented by the state of Alabama.

Now for Lincoln and Davis.

As the state of Kentucky has not yet sent a statue to the hall, the report is circulated every now and then that a movement is to be started to have that state appropriate money for marble figures of Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis, and send them to Washington. Lincoln and Davis were both natives of Kentucky. This sort of story appears to be handed around whenever there is a fresh outbreak over the Lee statue. The idea of those starting it is evidently to see what effect it will have. A few people have been heard to declare that, if this should be done, it would prove beyond all doubt that the last vestige of bitter feeling over the Civil war had vanished.
